III. 阅读理解 (共 15 小题, 每小题 3 分, 共 45 分)

阅读下面三篇短文, 从每题所给的四个选项中选出最佳选项。

A

Tom was a policeman. He liked boiled eggs. He often had one for breakfast. One morning in December, he was on duty on the road in his police car. At ten o'clock, he went into a small cafe by the roadside for breakfast. He ordered a boiled egg, a drink and a sandwich. When the food was brought to him, he found that the egg was not cooked enough. He looked around the cafe and saw a microwave oven (微波炉) on the table beside the wall. He put the egg inside the microwave oven and turned it on for one minute. Then he took out the egg to his table, picked up his fork and pushed it into the egg.

Suddenly there was a loud explosion. For a moment, all the other people rushed to hide under the table in the cafe as they thought someone had thrown a bomb into the building. But when they saw Tom's face, they all laughed because he had the egg all over it. Tom had made a big mistake as eggs must never be cooked in a microwave oven.

Sleep is like food for the brain. Enough sleep helps the body and brain grow and develop. According to the National Sleep Foundation in the US, for students aged 10 to 17, a healthy amount is about 8 to 9 hours per night. But many students don't get enough sleep because of early school starting time and heavy homework. About 80 percent of middle-school students don't get enough sleep, reported by the Youth and Children Research Center. For some students, they want to sleep early, but they keep worrying about their schoolwork and can't fall asleep quickly. For others, they may even have insomnia which might keep them awake all night.

These sleeping problems greatly affect (影响) people's lives. Experts have shown that lack of sleep leads to poor grades for teenagers. Students without enough sleep cannot pay attention in class or do well in sports. Also, the lack of sleep may make them depressed (沮丧的).

Luckily, with good sleep habits, it is easier to fall asleep. Some of these good habits include avoiding drinks that make people excited late in the day, going to sleep at the same time each night, and sleeping in a comfortable place that is dark, quiet, and neither too warm nor too cold.

36. If Li Hong is 15 years old, how much sleep does she need every night?
- A. 7 hours.
 - B. 8-9 hours.
 - C. 10-12 hours.
 - D. Less than 7 hours.
37. If teenagers don't get enough sleep, they might _____.
- A. feel depressed
 - B. do well in sports
 - C. keep their body strong
 - D. do their schoolwork well
38. The underlined word "insomnia" (in Para. 1) means "_____" in Chinese.
- A. 健忘症
 - B. 多动症
 - C. 肥胖症
 - D. 失眠症
39. Which is NOT a reason why so many students don't get enough sleep?
- A. They have sleeping problems.
 - B. They cannot pay attention in class.
 - C. They have too much homework to do.
 - D. They have to get up very early to go to school.
40. Which of the following is a good sleeping habit?
- A. Sleeping in a bright place.
 - B. Going to bed late at night.
 - C. Sleeping in a dark and quiet place.
 - D. Drinking something that makes you excited.

2. 本卷共 5 小题, 共 25 分。

V. 阅读短文, 将文中划线的句子译成通顺的汉语 (共 5 小题, 每小题 5 分, 共 25 分)

Now cities are full of cars. Some families even have two or three cars. (46)Parking is a great problem so something must be done to change it. What will the cars of tomorrow be like? Little cars may someday take the place of today's big cars. (47)If everyone drives little cars in the future there will be less pollution in the air. (48)There will also be more space for parking cars in cities, and streets will be less crowded. Three little cars can fit in the space now which is needed for one car of the usual size. The little cars will cost much less to own and to drive. Driving will be safe, too. What's more, these little cars can go about 65 kilometers per hour. (49)Little cars of the future will be fine for going around a city, but they will not be useful for long trips. If big cars are still used along with the little ones, two sets of roads will be needed in the future. (50)Some roads will be used for the fast big cars, and the other roads for the slow little ones.
